Celebrating Teachers' Day at School № 47

In honor of Teachers' Day, a magnificent festive event took place at School No. 47. This annual celebration is dedicated to honoring and recognizing the significant contribution of teachers in nurturing young talents and preparing future generations.

The celebrations kicked off with an introductory address by the school director, expressing sincere appreciation to all staff members for their diligence and devotion to their profession. Pupils of all ages actively participated in the cultural program featuring musical compositions, dances, and theatrical performances reflecting students' respect for their mentors.

A highlight of the event was the awarding ceremony where the best teachers distinguished themselves through high professionalism and inspiring example set before pupils. The festivities culminated in singing the school hymn together by all students, symbolizing deep attachment to alma mater and beloved teachers.

Thus, this remarkable day became an important event strengthening intergenerational ties, fostering love for knowledge, sense of responsibility, and mutual understanding among everyone involved in the educational process.

AI: Benefits and Risks for Schoolchildren

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has become an integral part of modern education, transforming the way students learn and teachers teach. From personalized learning platforms to intelligent tutoring systems, AI offers numerous advantages. However, it also presents certain challenges and risks that must be carefully managed to ensure the well-being and development of schoolchildren.

Benefits of AI for Schoolchildren

1. Personalized Education

AI systems can analyze individual student performance and tailor educational content to meet their specific needs. This personalized approach helps students learn more effectively, boosting motivation and engagement. For example, AI-powered platforms can identify areas where a student struggles and provide additional exercises or explanations.

2. Accessibility and Inclusivity

AI tools can support students with disabilities by offering speech recognition, text-to-speech, and other assistive technologies. These tools make learning more accessible for everyone, ensuring that all students have equal opportunities to succeed.

3. Interactive and Engaging Learning

AI enables the creation of interactive lessons, educational games, and virtual simulations. These engaging methods make learning fun and memorable, encouraging curiosity and critical thinking among students.

4. Language Learning and Homework Help

AI-powered chatbots and translation tools help students understand complex concepts and learn new languages more efficiently. They provide instant feedback, making homework and language practice more accessible and less stressful.

Risks and Challenges of AI for Schoolchildren

1. Overreliance on Technology

Dependence on AI tools may reduce students' ability to think critically and solve problems independently. Excessive use of AI for answers can hinder the development of essential skills like analysis, creativity, and decision-making.

2. Privacy and Data Security

Many AI educational platforms collect personal data to personalize learning experiences. If not properly protected, this data can be misused or leaked, risking students' privacy and safety.

3. Spread of Misinformation

AI systems are not infallible and can sometimes provide incorrect or biased information. Students relying solely on AI for answers may learn inaccuracies, which can negatively impact their education.

4. Digital Divide

Access to AI technologies is not equal worldwide. Students in underprivileged areas may lack the necessary devices

Cinnamon Rolls

For the dough:

- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/3 cup granulated sugar
- 2 1/4 teaspoons active dry yeast (1 packet)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup warm milk (about 110°F/45°C)
- 1/3 cup unsalted butter, melted
- 2 large eggs

For the filling:

- 1/2 cup unsalted butter, softened
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons ground cinnamon

For the cream cheese frosting:

- 4 oz cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup unsalted butter, softened
- 1 to 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1-2 tablespoons milk (optional, for consistency)

Instructions:

1. Prepare the dough:

- In a small bowl, dissolve the yeast in warm milk. Let it sit for 5-10 minutes until frothy.
- In a large mixing bowl, combine flour, sugar, and salt.
- Add the melted butter, eggs, and the yeast mixture to the dry ingredients.
- Mix until a dough forms, then knead on a floured surface for about 5-7 minutes until smooth and elastic.
- Place the dough in a greased bowl, cover with a damp cloth, and let it rise in a warm place for 1-2 hours, or until doubled in size.

2. Prepare the filling:

- In a small bowl, mix the softened butter, brown sugar, and cinnamon until well combined.

3. Assemble the rolls:

- Punch down the risen dough and roll it out on a floured surface into a rectangle about 16x12 inches.
- Spread the cinnamon filling evenly over the dough.
- Roll up the dough tightly from the longer side to form a log.
- Cut the log into 12-15 equal slices.

4. Bake:

- Place the slices in a greased baking dish, leaving some space between them.
- Cover and let rise for another 30 minutes.
- Preheat the oven to 350°F (175°C).
- Bake the rolls for 20-25 minutes, until golden brown.

5. Prepare the cream:

- Mix powdered sugar, milk, and vanilla to make the glaze.
- Drizzle over warm rolls before serving.

Done! Enjoy your meal!

What is autumn for me?

«Autumn is more than just a season—it embodies feelings, memories, and transformations that resonate deeply within my soul. As I watch the world around me transition into this vibrant palette of colors, I am reminded of the beauty hidden in change itself. For me, autumn symbolizes both closure and new beginnings. The falling leaves remind me of letting go of past experiences while simultaneously preparing myself for fresh starts. Each rustling leaf seems to whisper tales of lessons learned and wisdom gained over time. The chilly breeze carries with it an invigorating energy that encourages introspection. Long walks under golden skies allow me to reflect upon life's journey thus far, appreciating every moment along the way. Thus, autumn isn't merely a fleeting moment; rather, it's an integral part of living fully aware of one's surroundings and cherishing all aspects of existence equally.»

Иванова Анастасия 8Б

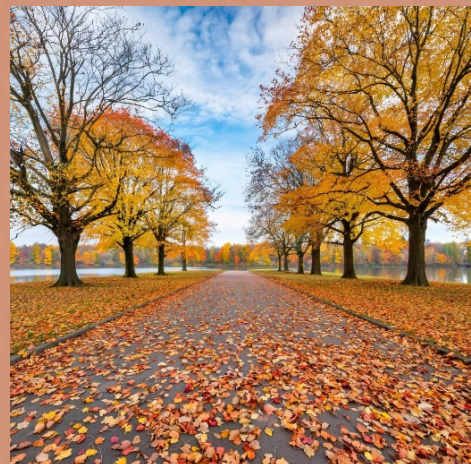

«Autumn is a special season that brings many changes to nature and life. For me, autumn means beauty, reflection, and a fresh start. The trees change their colors, turning red, orange, and yellow, creating a warm and cozy atmosphere. The air becomes cooler and crisper, which feels refreshing after hot summer days. I also see autumn as a time for slowing down and appreciating simple pleasures, like walking in parks covered with fallen leaves or drinking warm tea. It reminds me to be grateful for the year's harvest and prepare for new challenges ahead. The sounds of rustling leaves and the smell of earth make this season peaceful and inspiring. In short, autumn is not just a transition between summer and winter; it is a time to enjoy nature's beauty and find calm before the busy winter months.»

Антонова Софья 8Б

«Autumn is a delightful season when golden leaves fall gently from the trees, dancing gracefully through the cool breeze. The earth dons a cloak of warm hues—russet browns, fiery reds, and deep ambers—that captivate our senses. It's a time of harvest, where gardens yield their bounty, filling pantries with fresh produce. Evenings spent sipping hot tea by candlelight create moments of serenity amidst nature's grand display. Autumn whispers tales of renewal and invites us to embrace the simple pleasures of life.»

Robert Louis Stevenson Autumn Fires

In the other gardens
And all up the vale,
From the autumn bonfires
See the smoke trail.

Pleasant summer over
And all the summer flowers,
The red fire blazes,
The gray smoke towers.

Sing a song of seasons!
Something bright in all,
Flowers in the summer
Fires in the fall!
(1885 г.)

Роберт Льюис Стивенсон Осенние огни

Там, в садах, далеко,
По лугам седым,
От костров осенних
Восходящий дым.

Лето миновало,
Стебля нет с цветком,
Над костром багряным
Серый дым столбом.

Пойте песню часа!
Всюду - знак есть чар:
Летом цвет расцветший,
Осенью - пожар!

(Перевод К. Бальмонта)
